

PHILIP ALDRIDGE

FINANCIAL ADVISOR

In the year 2005, Philip E. Aldridge began his financial service career with Edward Jones Investments as a Financial Advisor. While at Edward Jones Investments he learned many valuable lessons about always putting the needs of his clients first. His compassionate approach to understanding the values and needs of the families he has served was recognized in 2009 when he received the Client Service Excellence Award. Eventually the needs of his clients outgrew what EJI could provide, and Philip joined WWK Wealth Advisors in 2012. Since joining WWK he has been free to focus on providing the mindful investment advice and careful direction that his clients have grown to depend on through the years. His approach focuses on understanding the values of the people he serves so that their financial and life needs are met inside of their value set on their schedule. He is known for his ability to console families and calmly shepherd them through some of the scariest transitions of life such as; suffering a stroke and transitioning to full time care, Alzheimer's disease, dementia, cancer treatments, loss of spouse/child/parent to name a few.

Philip lives in West Fort Worth with his son Joseph. Yoga and Wim Hof Method breathing are a part of his daily life, as is mindfulness meditation to which he credits his compassionate approach to client relations. Philip is an avid outdoor adventurer who enjoys hiking, biking, paddle boarding and camping with his son and friends.
